Status of Claims

1. This action is responsive to amendment filed on October 6, 2010, where Applicant amended claims 1,53,54. Claims 1-37,53,54 remain pending.

Response to Arguments

- 2. Applicant's arguments filed 10/6/2010 have been fully considered but are not fully persuasive.
- 3. On pages 11-12 of remarks, Applicant argues that Hutsch's web-top manager is not the claimed personal base instance.

In reply, Firslty Applicant has not addressed the embodiment where data is received from the providers (i.e. third parties) only via the universal contact broker (i.e. base server). This embodiment is where the user is utilizing remote applications (see at least Figure 3A), and clearly demonstrates that the web-top manager behaves equivalent to the claimed personal base instance. Secondly, the embodiment of the portlets which Applicant is referring to at the top of page 12 of the remarks, all access data from external providers which are indeed equivalent to third parties. The data is accessed via a configuration server which works in concert with the universal content broker. Both the server and the universal content broker perform functionality of the base server (see at least Figure 3A and column 17 lines 23-29).

4. On page 12 of remarks, Applicant argues that Hutsch's universal content broker is not a third part.

In reply, Firslty the universal content broker is not relied upon to teach the limitation of "third party". It is the universal content providers (item #331 in the figures) which is relied upon to teach this. Secondly, the universal content providers are data sources accessible via URI's which are enough to satisfy the broad limitation of thurd party (see at least Figure 3A and column 16 lines 20-40).

The rejections are thus maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

- (e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.
- 6. Claims 1-5,8-10,12-14,33,35-37,53,54 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hutsch et al (US Patent Patent No 7269664).
- 7. For detailed rejection see Office Action dated 7/8/2010. Also see response to Applicants arguments presented above which addresses the currently modified claim language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
  - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2457

9. Claims 11,15-32 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hutsch et al (US Patent Patent No 7269664).

- 10. For detailed rejection see Office Action dated 7/8/2010.
- 11. Claims 6,7,34 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hutsch et al (US Patent Patent No 7269664) in view of Moshfegi et al (US Patent No 6076166).
- 12. For detailed rejection see Office Action dated 7/8/2010.

Conclusion

- 13. Applicant may not introduce any new matter to the claims or to the specification. For any subsequent response that contains new/amended claims, Applicant is required to cite its corresponding support in the specification. (See MPEP chapter 2163.03 section (I.) and chapter 2163.04 section (I.) and chapter 2163.06)
- 14. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
